It's hard not to fall in love with Bali. It's even harder not to fall hopelessly in love when in Bali; which is why the small Indonesian Island has long been the wedding destination of choice, for couples who wish to celebrate their commitment to one another in tropical paradise.

The real jewel in the crown however, is Ubud. Nestled in the uplands of Bali, and surrounded by lush green rainforests, rice paddies and traditional Balinese heartland, an Ubud wedding is unlike any other on earth. Ubud's foremost, luxury boutique hotel, Bisma Eight, offers the proverbial icing on the wedding cake with "The Wedding by Bisma Eight"

It's amazing how such a small and simple word can change your life forever. "Yes!" The answer that marks your next chapter; the precursor to saying: "I do" and a promise to share the rest of your life with the one that you love. As simple a word it may be, this is just the beginning of your story, and the memories that you are about to create will last an eternity.

Beyond the perfect wedding dress and the timeless endearments that you and your betrothed have carefully penned for each other, your fondest sentiments arise with a distinctive choice of wedding venue, and Bisma Eight has it all.

A stunningly intimate rooftop that sits high in the jungle canopy, sets the idyllic scene for your special day. Your chosen florals delicately line the isle and adorn the pergola, as their scent guides you to the altar where your future awaits. The soft and gentle Ubud breeze whispers sweet nothings, allowing you both to remain endlessly in the moment, as your commitment or blessing ceremony comes to life.

Your guests will be well tended by the ever-present service team, and will be encouraged to stay with you as inspired and authentically crafted cuisine, is delivered by the award winning chefs of Copper Kitchen & Bar. Glasses can be discreetly filled with your choice of beverage, leaving you to share your moments with family and friends. All will be well taken care of, so you don't have to worry about a thing.

Almost on cue, nature's very own entertainment provides the most magical of light shows, as the sun sets amidst the panoramic jungle views that literally embrace the exquisitely appointed hotel grounds.

All of this comes as standard, though Bisma Eight is anything but ordinary, it's an immersive and effectual place that means something different to everyone who visits, and whilst unwavering tranquility and majestic sunsets have to stay, each and every element of your wedding can be bespoke and tailored toward your innermost requirements.

Attention to detail is everything, from the intricate wooden carvings that grace the elevator walls, to the shadows cast from the thriving tropical foliage and palm fronds, bordering the pathways toward the spacious and indulgent suites; so naturally the details of your special day are as important to the Bisma Eight family as they are to you.

The most memorable day of your life should be as individual as you are. Begin your next chapter with "The Wedding by Bisma Eight".
